Manager's Notes

Anyone who has ever been affiliated with KALW has made their own unique contribution to the shape and substance of the station. Jerry Jacob, in moving on to other pursuits, leaves KALW in much sounder financial shape and with a greater sense of how to confront the challenges we now face. Our thanks to Jerry for all that he did to move us along on our path of continuing to make KALW the radio station you rely on and support.

It is a great honor for me to move into the position of General Manager after having served as KALW's Director of Community Affairs. The opportunity of helping to shape events at this period in our history is an invigorating challenge. All of us are passionate about the station and each of us takes enormous pride in what we do. In the months ahead, we will use our combined skills and energies to discover and implement new solutions to the issues we now confront.

As many of you know, we are grappling with the implications of finding a new physical site as our current location is turned back into a facility for elementary school students. These are tough times. Our task is to find imaginative and effective ways of expanding our fiscal base while preserving the strength and integrity of our programming.

We pledge our best efforts to you in these endeavors and we ask your continued support for us. Your loyalty and commitment to the station is one of our greatest assets; all of us at KALW look forward to many more years of being your choice in public radio.

Cordially,

Rose L. Levinson

Rose L. Levinson
General Manager

Congratulations!

KALW Producer JoAnn Mar was honored recently for two documentaries she produced for NPR's Horizons series. Her most recent documentary on first generation Chinese mothers and their American-raised daughters won a gold medal last month at the prestigious New York International Radio Festival competition. Earlier this year, another program she produced "Feminist Music Makers" captured a first place award in the American Women In Radio and Television competition. It airs Thursday, July 13 at 8:30 pm.

Also, congratulations to KALW's Deirdre Kennedy. She was the recipient of the 1994 Award of Merit from the Hospital Council of Northern and Central California, for her documentary on teenagers and AIDS called "The New Face of AIDS". It airs Friday, July 21 at 10:30 am on AIDS Update.

Summer '95 - What's New

We regrettably have to announce that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is no longer distributing Quirks & Quarks to the United States. To take its place at 10 on Monday mornings we offer a pair of half-hour programs that cover the world of science and technology: We're Science and the BBC's Science In Action.

The other changes this quarter take place on the weekend. With Worldwide Jazz from Radio Netherlands concluding its 6 month season, on Saturday nights at 11 we're pleased to air Jazz From Lincoln Center through the end of the year. See page 21 for a list of this quarter's programs. Joe Frankl In The Dark has reached the end of its run after eighteen months. The decision is Joe's, as his other commitments and opportunities have made it impossible for him to continue his work on "In The Dark." In its place on Sundays evenings at 7:30 this summer we present Flywheel, Shyster, and Flywheel, a twelve-part recreation of a Marx Brothers radio series. Also, The Poet's Voice, a series on some of our greatest poets takes over the 6:30 slot on Sundays right after Rabbit Bars Radio for the summer. Please see page 14 and 15 for a complete description of these and many other special programs we'll be presenting.

THE POET'S VOICE

SUNDAYS AT 6:30 PM

- Jul. 2 W.H. Auden World-famous poet by the age of 23, Wystan Hugh Auden was a seminal poet in contemporary literature.
- Jul. 9 Robert Frost The contentious Frost achieved fame late but became a consummate performer of his dark yet hopeful poems. Frost reads "Mending Wall" and "Stopping by the Woods on a Snowy Evening."
- Jul. 16 William Carlos Williams A New Jersey pediatrician, Williams shed conventions and fathered a new movement in American poetry.
- Jul. 23 Marianne Moore This slight woman quietly broke all the rules and won every conceivable honor for her intricate, idiosyncratic work.
- Jul. 30 Dylan Thomas The flamboyant troubadour drank himself to death at age 39, but delighted audiences with his expressive voice and rich language. Thomas reads from "Under Milk Wood."
- Aug. 6 Pablo Neruda Chilean poet Neruda was a controversial figure: a guru of sensual verse - tactile, political, personal and darkly surreal.
- Aug. 13 Robert Lowell In a turbulent life crippled by manic-depression, Lowell transformed English literary traditions and twice won the Pulitzer Prize.
- Aug. 20 Anne Sexton Immensely talented and enormously troubled, Sexton took up Lowell's "confessional poetry." She wrote about forbidden subjects - a woman's body, fears and fantasies - to commercial and critical acclaim.
- Aug. 27 Czeslaw Milosz His work drew from his experiences as a Polish resistance fighter, diplomat, and emigre.
- Sep. 3 Gwendolyn Brooks Brooks' exquisite portraits and vignettes illuminate issues of race and violence as well as the development of a black aesthetic.
- Sep. 10 Octavio Paz One of Mexico's greatest writer and intellectual, Paz has made Latin-American poetry a dominant force in contemporary literature.
- Sep. 17 Adrienne Rich Precocious poet and dutiful fifties wife, Adrienne Rich transformed herself by her writing.
- Sep. 24 Derek Walcott Walcott's lyric gifts and love of the epic grew out of his Caribbean roots and dialect as well as the English language and its literary heritage. (last program of the series)

As with all good things, my three-year odyssey as manager of KALW has come to an end. KALW's mission of service and information is secure under the able stewardship of its staff, a most talented, professional and dedicated group. It's time now for me to reactivate my media and marketing consultancy. I can be reached at 415.459.2888. To all of you, thanks.

- Jerry Jacob

Manager's Notes

The Fall quarter is often a time of new beginnings. So it is at KALW. There are a couple of important items we want you to know about.

We will be moving from our current site sometime within the next six months. Right now we're exploring options and expect to make final arrangements within the next few weeks.

Any move is disruptive, as we all know. Moving a radio station is a major undertaking. All of us on staff, along with volunteers, will make this transition as smooth as possible, with no disruption to you. Most helpful to us will be your generosity during our fund drive, scheduled for October 27 to November 7. Our next Program Guide will provide details of KALW's new location.

Many of you have been following the debate over whether or not the Corporation for Public Broadcasting will survive and if so, in what form. KALW anticipates an approximate five percent funding loss this year, and additional cutbacks the following year. Beyond that, nothing is certain. We urge you to contact your Representatives to voice your support for public broadcasting, and to keep abreast of how this issue plays out.

You will notice some program changes in the current schedule. These alterations are made after careful consideration, motivated by staff's commitment to keeping KALW innovative and responsive.

Note that Tangents and Kumpo Beat are now an hour longer; we've added Bluegrass Signal to our Saturday music offerings and Book Talk, moved to Sunday at 6:30 p.m., will be weekly. Thursday's at 8:30 p.m. is a thirteen week, Legacies series. KALW's Michael Johnson was Associate Producer of this national program. We'll continue to review our schedule, and make appropriate changes with the aim of serving you most effectively.

As always, we are grateful for your support. Please be as generous as you can. On our part, we'll keep delivering the best in public radio.

Cordially,

Rose L. Levinson

KALW Fall Pledge Drive Highlights

Our twelve-day fundraising campaign begins on Friday, October 27th. As we expect to lose most or all of our federal funding in two years, your financial support is needed more than ever to help keep your station in life healthy and thriving.

ANNE WILSON SCHAEF ON "RECOVERY IN AN ADDICTIVE WORLD"

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27 AT NOON

This renowned psychologist offers a new model of the addictive system and challenges our core thinking about addiction.

DEEPAK CHOPRA ON "A WORLD OF WIZARDS"

MONDAY, OCTOBER 30 AT NOON

Produced by New Dimensions Radio. This best-selling author and noted scholar talks about his first work of fiction "The Return of Merlin."

NOAM CHOMSKY ON "CLASS WAR: THE ATTACK ON WORKING PEOPLE"

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 31 AT NOON

This insightful political analyst and MIT professor discusses how the recession of the '90's and corporate downsizing have eroded the U.S. middle class.

"TRICK OR TREAT?"

The above phrase is:

- a) Newt Gingrich's domestic policy
- b) the newest KALW funding plan
- c) a description of Hugh Grant
- d) A common saying associated with Halloween, the time of year when the Capitol Steps deliver their frighteningly funny Halloween edition of "Politics Takes a Holiday." If you guessed d), YOU'RE RIGHT! And so, you'll be needing the following program information:

CAPITAL STEPS HALLOWEEN SPECIAL

TUESDAY OCTOBER 31 AT 8:30 PM

Here are some of the specials you'll hear during our on-air fundraiser at noon every weekday, just a few examples of the excellent programs heard regularly on KALW--

MOLLY IVINS AND SUSAN FALUDI "WOMEN ON THE VERGE"

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 1 AT NOON

These two outspoken feminists join forces to discuss the politics of gender, the anti-feminist backlash, and sexual harassment.

ANTI-NUCLEAR ACTIVIST HELEN CALDICOTT

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2 AT NOON

The well-known activist gives a speech produced by Alternative Radio.

SOGYAL RINPOCHE ON "LIVING WELL, DYING WELL"

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3 AT NOON

Tibetan Buddhist scholar Sogyal Rinpoche talks about the spiritual path open to all people. He says, "To learn how to die is to learn how to live. It is a means by which you live each day truthfully and face death without fear."

LUISAH TEISH IN CONVERSATION

WITH NEW DIMENSIONS RADIO

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 6 AT NOON

This noted author talks about the West African Yoruba tradition and the importance of bonding for survival and creating a sense of appreciation for the sacred in the everyday.

CAROLINE MYSS ON "WHY PEOPLE DON'T HEAL"

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7 AT NOON

This respected figure in the field of holistic medicine talks about the fundamentals of the human energy anatomy, the links between personal power and illness, and how to get out of the victim mentality that is the first obstacle to wellness.

Hey! Who Are Those Guys?

Yes that was Alistair Cooke and Sedge Thomson on the cover of the last program guide. The photo was taken by Jack Gelman. We thank Jack for all his contributions to KALW and West Coast Live. (For all of you who thought it was the Car Talk guys, see below.)
